THE CITY OF BELGRADE

Belgrade, eclectic capital of Serbia on the crossroads of the East and the West

Belgrade is a city that effortlessly merges its rich history with a pulsating contemporary vibe, creating an urban tapestry unlike any other. Nestled on the confluence of the Sava and Danube rivers, Belgrade is a fascinating blend of cultural diversity, resilient spirit, and a warm, welcoming atmosphere.

It was exactly its strategic position, at a historical crossroad of the East and the West, what has shaped Belgrade into a cultural and economic hub that it is today. This geographical importance has played a pivotal role in Belgrade's development, fostering a rich interplay of influences and a unique blend of traditions.

Ancient Kalemegdan Fortress, historic Skadarlija street and the bustling Knez Mihailova Street, narrate the tale of the city's endurance but also of its' constant evolution. Republic Square, dominated by the National Museum and the Prince Mihailo Monument, serves as a cultural focal point, reflecting Belgrade's multifaceted identity. Museum of Nikola Tesla, honors legacy of this famous visionary and inventor, offering a fascinating glimpse into his groundbreaking work in electrical engineering, adding another layer to Belgrade's cultural fabric, highlighting its contribution to the world of science and innovation.

Municipality of Zemun, where the venue of the event is located, with its own charm, is situated along the banks of the Danube River. Centre of Zemun features recently restored historic district, showcasing a more relaxed atmosphere, with cobblestone streets, charming houses, many restaurants, authentic farmers' market, Kej, the picturesque waterfront promenade and the iconic Gardos Tower, offering panoramic views of the river and the city.

Beyond its historical landmarks, Belgrade is a haven for food enthusiasts. The city's cuisine is a delightful fusion of flavors, a reflection of its diverse cultural heritage. Traditional Serbian dishes, savor the rich and hearty flavors that define the essence of Belgrade's gastronomic identity.

In Belgrade, the convergence of history and modernity, the harmonious coexistence of tradition and progress, and the genuine warmth of its people define the city. Allow yourself to wander through its streets, absorb its atmosphere, and experience the captivating spirit that sets Belgrade apart.

Welcome to Belgrade. Enjoy your stay!
